Amy Budka

Amy Budka teaches music, chorus and theater arts for the Bedford Public Schools. She has directed the summer play for the recreation department every summer since 1990.

Amy holds a Bachelor's degree in percussion performance from the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, and a Master of Music Education from the Boston Conservatory. Amy is active in the Massachusetts Music Educators Association, and she is currently pursuing a certificate of advanced graduate study in Fine Arts Administration at Fitchburg State College.

Amy is the director of the children's church school music program at the Old South Church in Boston, and she plays drums for the youth mass at St. Mary's Church in Chelmsford. As a free-lance musician, she plays percussion locally for the Metropolitan Wind Symphony and the Wellesley Symphony.
